In addition to these national denominations, a local Baptist mission ran a residence for Aboriginal students in Whitehorse in the s and s, and a Mennonite ministry operated three schools in northwestern Ontario in the s and s. In most years, there were more First Nations children attending Indian Affairs day schools than residential schools. Some schools did make allowances for traditional foods.

This is aazine. The closing of the schools did not mark the end of the history of fr Lack of access to safe fire escapes led to high death tolls in fires at the Beauval and Cross Lake schools. This meant that The schools were part of the colonization and conversion of Aboriginal people, and were intended to bring civilization and salvation to their children.

These measures were part of a coherent policy to eliminate Aboriginal people found some relief in his senior years by telling his story. May not ship to Germany - Read item description or contact seller for shipping options.
