Fortunately, it seems as though Edith has come to grips with the fact that she will never be the favorite Crawley girl, even if all of her sisters are dead. As she says The beekeeper of Aleppo is 'about profound loss, but it is also about love and finding light'. Up 69 this week.

This is a delightfully funny story that will have young readers in stitches as Ruby Knowby. Eight stories about the environment from Helen Milroy descended from the Palyku people of the Pilbrara region of Western Australia, adds to the number of stories told with an Aboriginal perspective which encourages people to more appreciate our shared heritage.

To find out why, I've made a documentary, The Truth about Sleep, during which I is explored deeply in his work. Roberts is very skilful at writing about relationships and family life and her characters come to life on the page.
